Today we consider the call to continue the mission of Jesus by engaging in some form of ministry. The first and the last readings are call narratives; the epistle contains a statement of the faith that undergirds our response to our call; the psalm response celebrates the gracious goodness of God that makes all of this possible.

Our call is more than a summons to faith; it is a call to ministry. Isaiah is called in order to be sent; the fishermen are called in order to gather others to Jesus. So it is with us. We are called to be sent out to the world. This call comes to us in the ordinariness of life. It will usually come to us as we wash our nets or our dishes, as we teach or raise children, as we prepare a brief for trial or examine a patient; as we repair cars or work at the computer. The call of God comes to us in the ordinariness of life.

We are called to proclaim the message of the resurrection by any and every means possible. Some, like Isaiah and the disciples of Jesus, will witness in open and dramatic ways. They will teach and preach; they will nurse the sick and care for the elderly. Others will witness in less conspicuous ways. They will insist on fair practices in their own workplaces; they will weed out expressions of prejudice and violence so that a new and just world can be fashioned for themselves and for their children. Called in the ordinariness of their lives, they will witness to the death and resurrection in that very ordinariness, thus transforming everything into extraordinariness. (Dianne Bergant CSA)

Prayer of Discipleship

God of love,
source of mercy and compassion,
weave your dream for the world
into the fabric of our lives.
Remove the scales from our eyes and lift the indifference from our hearts,
so that we may see your vision –
a new reign of justice and compassion that will renew the earth.
Transform our lives,
so that we may accomplish your purpose.
Anoint us with your spirit of love that we might bring good news to the oppressed,
bind up the broken hearted,
and proclaim release to the captive.
Help us to reach out to those whom no one else will touch,
to accept the unacceptable,
and to embrace the enemy.
Surround us with your love,
fill us with your grace,
and strengthen us for your service.
Empower us to respond to the call of Jesus – and to follow.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen

A Thought for the Week ( Pope Francis):

"The mission of the Christian in the world is a mission for all, a mission of service, which excludes no-one; it requires great generosity and in particular the gaze and heart turned heavenward to invoke the Lord's help.

Parish News

The funeral prayer service to celebrate the life of Tony Iverson will be held this Monday 11 February at 10.00am in Sacred Heart. Let us continue to hold in prayer his parents Graham & Gwen, his wife Lisa and their children Abby & Curtis, their extended family and friends during this very difficult time.

Parish Finance Committee / Council

In keeping with the principles set down in canon law it is my intention to establish a Parish Finance Council. The overall function of this body will be as a consultative group to assist the parish priest / administrator with the stewardship of the material goods of the parish. In the short term, this group will need to advise me in urgent matters that need attention in the area of church maintenance and capital works and to prioritise an action plan. In the long term it will be to help devise a strategy to ensue that sufficient parish finances are available to address pastoral priorities. It will also contribute to establishing a framework for greater shared responsibility within parish life.

A balance of male and female members across a range of ages will help ensue that a variety of perspectives is accessible.

If you have a particular interest or expertise in such matters and wish to be considered a part of this collaborative body please contact our parish office by phone / email as soon as possible.

Plenary Council 2020

When we listen to each other -
We listen to the Spirit

"I invite everyone to be bold and creative in this task of rethinking the goals, structures, styles and methods of evangelization in their respective communities. A proposal of goals without adequate communal search for the means of achieving them will inevitably prove illusory...." Pope Francis

Have your say in the life and future direction of the Catholic Church in Australia. The Plenary Council is still accepting submissions from individuals and groups until 6 March (Ash Wednesday) at plenarycouncil.catholic.org.au or mail to PO Box 747, North Sydney NSW 2059.

Volunteers

The practical support of our parish community is required to take communion to those requesting it at the Mercy Hospital, Borella House and the Lutheran Nursing Home on Sundays. If you would be willing to help out on a roster basis at one of these facilities please contact our parish office for further details. While a police check will be necessary you do not need to be a current Eucharistic minister to carry out this act of hospitality and service.

This week we commemorated the tenth anniversary of the Black Saturday bushfires which swept through Victoria killing 173 people. It also marked the fiftieth anniversary of the crash of the Southern Aurora with a goods train near Violet Town. Townsville and much of Northern Queensland continue to recover from a monsoonal rain event. Let us pray for all those affected in any way by such catastrophic events that hope may be renewed and lives restored in the aftermath of such devastating occurrences.

Reflection on the Readings

The theme that comes through this week's readings is one of 'being called'. The first reading is the call of the prophet Isaiah (Is 6:1-8). Isaiah experiences a vision of the glory of God and is humbly reminded of his own deficiencies: he believes himself to be 'a man of unclean lips'. As such, he is certainly unfit to speak on behalf of God as his unclean lips would taint whatever message he may speak. But his lips are cleansed by God who then asks, 'Whom shall I send?' Demonstrating a complete conversion of heart and mind, Isaiah immediately replies, 'Here I am, send me!'

This first reading provides a perfect balance to the gospel. Jesus is being closely pressed by the crowd when he asks a nearby fisherman to take him just off shore to preach without being overwhelmed by the crowd. Seemingly at random, he has selected the boat of the fisherman Peter. Having finished preaching for the day, Jesus tells Peter to set out into deeper water and pay out his fishing nets. Peter is certainly not keen on the idea! Out of some interest or good nature he had agreed to allow this preacher to use his boat for a while, but now this country bumpkin is trying to tell him how to fish! Just to prove Jesus wrong, Peter agrees to go through the futile exercise and is overwhelmed by the enormous catch of fish. Like Isaiah in the first reading, Peter is suddenly acutely aware of his own deficiencies – 'Leave me Lord; I am a sinful man'. Like Isaiah, he recognises that he has just seen the glory of God revealed and he feels unworthy to be part of the experience. But Jesus reassures him, 'Do not be afraid,' and calls Peter to follow.

In the other two synoptic gospels – Matthew and Mark – the call of the disciples is one of the first recorded actions of Jesus' adult life. Luke, on the other hand, delays the call until after Jesus' public ministry has commenced. By this stage of the gospel, Jesus has made a public declaration about the nature of his ministry and begun to enact it. In this way, the sort of ministry Jesus will undertake is already established when the disciples are called to join it. It becomes a more conscious decision by the disciples – they know what they're getting in to!

Like Isaiah and Peter, each and every one of us is called. It may not happen through Jesus stepping into our boat, but when we quieten our minds and our hearts enough to really listen, we become aware that God truly is calling to each and every one of us. The call comes to us through our friends; our experiences; our hopes and our fears. Sometimes we are so afraid of hearing the call that we fill our lives with noise and distractions. We fear that the call will involve hardship, or at the very least: unpopularity. But that's no excuse! ( Greg Sunter)
